SENATE HALTS TRUMAN LABOR BILL HEARING

Kills Chance for Early Action; CIO's Murray Calls Picture "Explosive."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 — The senate committee decided today to hold hearings on the fact-finding disputes bill after today and not to resume until after the first of the year.

This means President Truman will not get his wish that such legislation be passed before the Christmas holidays.

Chairman Murray (D-Mont) of the senate group said:

"It was the judgment of the committee that it would be absolutely impossible to conclude reasonable hearings and get senate action on the Ellender bill before Christmas."

CIO President Philip Murray, who had described the nation's industrial picture as "explosive," testifying before the house labor committee in opposition to President Truman's request for a cooling and cooling off legislation as an approach to labor peace, Murray said:

"It is not facts that we lack. It is not cooling off that we lack. What is needed is a willingness on the part of the administration to face the facts."

Hurls Harsh Words

Existing situations in major industries are critical and dangerous," the CIO head added:

"The entire national industrial picture is explosive. The situation is so thoroughly fraught with danger for our future well-being that we cannot afford now to tolerate the kind of stupidity and bungling that characterized the action to enact such bills as the Smith-Connally law of 1943."

Murray said fact-finding boards in labor disputes are unnecessary because the "facts" already are known to various government agencies.

One analysis, by the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, he said, "demonstrated that American industry could grant pay increases of 24 per cent and still earn in 1946 profits after taxes more than twice those of pre-war years."

Reiterating his contention that the director of the Office of War Mobilization has attempted to suppress this report" and that "all other economic studies by congress and the department of commerce have not been made public," Murray added:

"It is facts that are needed to solve our current disputes, the government has only to release the facts already gathered and already in its possession."

Noting that Mr. Truman's plan called for a "cooling-off" period of 60 days while fact-finding boards were at work, the witness said that before calling a steel strike for Feb. 4, the CIO United Steelworkers attempted to negotiate with the workers have cooled off enough off until they have been frozen out of the picture, he bluntly asserted.

JEWISH DEATH TOLL PUT AT SIX MILLION

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Dec. 14 — Six million European Jews were ruthlessly slaughtered in the Nazi program of extermination, said secret police estimates today before the international military tribunal trying 21 alleged top leaders on war crimes charges.

The prosecutors filed an affidavit by Dr. Wilhelm Hoettl, a second man to defendant Kaltenbrunner in the secret police setting the estimate.

Approximately 4,000,000 Jews were killed in the various extermination camps while an additional 2,000,000 met death in other ways, the major part of which was by operational squads of the police during the campaign against Russia," Hoettl said. He attributed his figure to Eichman, chief "Jew catcher" of the secret police.

Deputy Chief Heinrich Himmler got Eichman's total was from Hoettl's affidavit re-

Barkley Says He May Quit Job in Pearl Harbor Probe

Senator's Announcement Comes as Entire Legal Staff Asks To Resign from Long Inquiry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) announced today he might resign from the Pearl Harbor committee. His statement came after the committee's entire legal staff asked to be excused from further participation in the inquiry.

Barkley told his colleagues that before reaching a final decision he would weigh his "relative obligations" to the committee and to the senate where he is majority leader.

"If I conclude that my obligations are greater to the senate, I shall resign as a member of the committee," he added.

How To Continue?

The widening scope of the investigation and the prospects of a prolonged sitting were cited as a factor.

The completely unexpected developments posed the question of how the investigation would continue.

Republican members of the committee sat in silence as their Democratic colleagues discussed the problem without reaching any immediate solution.

Previously William D. Mitchell, committee counsel and his entire staff asked to be relieved of duty.

Barkley called this move by the staff a "tragic development."

Mitchell said he and his aides would continue to present testimony this month, but Barkley said it would be difficult for the committee to find other counsel.

Lasts Too Long

Mitchell asserted in his statement that "all of my staff accepted their places on my expectations and assurances that they would not be held up for any considerable time after January first. My own obligations and responsibilities put me in the same position."

Mitchell said when he accepted the counsel's post weeks ago that he wanted to be relieved of duty by the first of the year.

Barkley noted that Mitchell and some of his assistants had said they desired to serve without compensation.

Both the counsel staff and Barkley protested that the hearings were ranging over such a wide field and witnesses were being questioned at such length that the investigation would go on for months.

The chairman said he had not wanted to serve on the committee in the first place because as majority leader he had "all any one human ought to be asked to do."

It now had become apparent, Barkley said, that the investigation could not be concluded by Jan. 3, as congress had stipulated.

Mitchell told the committee some of its members had so broadened the scope of the inquiry that it would take months to complete it.

Mitchell read to the committee a statement which noted that while the hearings had started Nov. 15, committee questioning has been so extensive the testimony of only eight witnesses has been completed.

Sixty Left to Go

"There remain at least 60," he said.

Mitchell said the legal staff would be glad to help a new staff

MORE SNOW AND COLD SCHEDULED FOR OHIO

Marion in Path of Season's Heaviest Snowfall.

With snow still falling freely, Marion county today was digging itself out from under a blanket which had reached a depth of three and one-half inches by midmorning. Lowest temperature here last night registered 22 degrees on the government thermometer.

More snow and cold were promised by the weather man, The Associated Press reported, with Ohio already blanketed under the heaviest snow of the season. The official forecast was for more snow in central and northern sections of the state with rain expected to mix with snow flurries and predicted colder week-end temperatures.

Edward O. Uncapher, city safety service director, reports that a maintainer has been scraping the streets in the downtown districts since midnight. Men with a truck have been hauling snow away from the intersections and salting icy spots on hills and corners since early morning. Because of the looseness of the snow, only a minimum of icy areas have appeared.

The state highway department has had snow plows and maintenance crews at work all day. All state roads in the county are open and are relatively free from icy spots.

County roads are all open and in good shape, the county engineer's office reports. No maintenance work has been done on them yet but they are being patrolled and equipment is standing by ready to operate if weather conditions become worse.

KRAMER PAYS FOR HORRORS AT NAZI CAMP

Irma Grese, 2 Other Women Executed by British at German Prison.

By The Associated Press

HAMBURG, Germany, Dec. 14—Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters announced today Josef Kramer, the "Beast of Belsen," and ten others of the Belsen gang, including Blonde Irma Grease, were hanged yesterday for committing crimes at the notorious concentration camp.

The executions were carried out at the Hamelin by Pierre Pont, official British hangman.

The 11 condemned to death were moved from Lueneburg's jail to the ancient prison on the banks of the Wesser river at Hamelin five days ago.

Denied Appeals

Marshal Montgomery denied all appeals Saturday. The eight men and three women hanged were condemned to death by a British military court Nov. 17 for atrocities committed at the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps. Nineteen other persons drew prison terms.

Three of the condemned accepted the court's verdict without appeal. They were Elizabeth Volkenrath, 26, head women's supervisor for the S.S. (Elite Guard), Juana Borman, 42, a fanatic who gave up missionary work to join the S.S., and Franz Hoessler, 34-year-old S.S. member who helped pick victims for the gas chamber.

Kramer, 39, was camp commandant. Irma Grese, was the pistol-packing "queen" of the Belsen gang.

Others who died were Dr. Fritz Klein, 58, who chose inmates for the gas chamber, Peter Weingartner, 32; Karl Francioh, 33; Ansgar Pichen, 32; Franz Starfiz, 30; and Wilhelm Dorr, 24

Brief Announcement

Montgomery's terse announcement said:

"All 11 of the Belsen criminals who were sentenced to death at Lueneburg were executed by hanging at Hamelin yesterday, Dec. 13.

"The executions were carried out at the following times:

"9:35 a. m., Elizabeth Volkenrath.

"10:03 a. m., Irma Grese

"10:38 a. m., Juana Borman.

"12:11 p. m., Josef Kramer and Dr. Fritz Klein.

"12:46 p. m., Karl Francioh and Peter Weingartner.

"3:37 p. m., Ansgar Pichen and Franz Hoeszler.

"4:16 p. m., Wilhelm Dorr and Franz Starfle."

SAWYER ASKS TO RETIRE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14 — Charles Sawyer, former Ohio Democratic leader who has tendered his resignation as U. Marion Schools Closed Until After Holidays To Check Flu

Action Taken As Number of Cases Grows; Weinbaum Issues Warning.

All Marion public and parochial schools were closed today as the number of influenza cases in the city continued to rise.

The public schools were dismissed at noon and St. Mary classes were suspended shortly after 1 p. m. Classes will not resume until after the Christmas holidays.

The decision to close the public schools came after a conference between Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner, and Supt. E. E. Holt. The attendance report this morning showed 31.6 per cent of the pupils absent. Out of classes were 1,819 pupils, 11 teachers and one office secretary.

Although absences at St. Mary were only 22 per cent yesterday, Rev. Father William J. Spickerman decided to close the school after talking with Dr. Weinbaum. The St. Mary-Lima St. Gerard basketball game at Lima tonight has been canceled.

The closing today will result in a lengthened Christmas vacation for Marion pupils. The public schools were scheduled to close next Thursday afternoon until after the first of the New Year.

Official Warning Issued

Dr. Weinbaum this morning warned Marion residents against attending public gatherings. He especially urged parents to keep children out of theaters and other public places.

The health commissioner said that if the situation continues to grow worse it might be necessary to close theaters and churches.

"So far there have been no serious cases of influenza reported in the city," Dr. Weinbaum said. He warned, however, that it is the nature of the disease to grow in severity the longer the epidemic runs.

"The influenza virus gains in strength as it is passed from one infected person to another," he said.

More County Schools Closed

Two more schools in Marion county closed yesterday, D. T. Mills, county superintendent said today. Morral and Green Camp were the latest added to the list, making a total of six out of the 14 county schools shut down. The others closed earlier are Prospect, Claridon, Pleasant and Campbell.

Orval L. Ulry, superintendent of the Green Camp school, reported classes there probably would be resumed next Tuesday. For the past few days the school has been on the border line with the percentage of students absent and yesterday the order to close came after a visit from a county health nurse revealed that several of the students had temperatures and head colds.

The child, left alone several minutes while her grandmother went upstairs, slid down in the chair and the strap broke her neck, Mrs. Thomas Kronenberger, the girl's mother reported.

DOCTOR SAYS PATTON NOW OUT OF DANGER

By The Associated Press

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY, Dec. 14—Col. R. Glen Spurling, chief specialist attending Gen. George S. Patton Jr., said today the American commander was "out of danger of death, but there was a possibility that he never would be able to command his troops again."

He described Patton's condition as a touch and go affair. He said the general might recover fully from the broken neck he received in an automobile crash last Sunday, but again he might be partly paralyzed for life.

Spurling said it would be impossible to forecast the effects of Patton's injuries for at least three or four weeks.

This morning's medical bulletin said Patton's condition was excellent.

Spurling, who was flown to Heidelberg from Washington with Mrs. Patton, said the general is unable to move his hands or legs voluntarily but is able to move his shoulders. There is a small amount of movement in his right upper arm.

Patton will be in a traction apparatus for several weeks and then will be fitted with a neck brace or collar support, Spurling said.

"As soon as his condition permits, he will be moved back to the United States for hospitalization," the doctor said. "That probably will be within the next four to six weeks."

Spurling said doctors might have to wait six months to know definitely whether Patton would regain full control of his arms and legs.

UNION CO. SCHOOLS TO REOPEN MONDAY

Attendance Will Determine Whether They Stay Open.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., Dec. 14—The Union county health board at a meeting Thursday decided to permit the schools in Union county to open Monday morning.

Whether the school remain open will depend on the number of pupils who appear for classes.

The health board ruling is as follows:

1. If there are 75 per cent or more pupils at school on Monday in each of ten or more of the 18 schools in the county only schools with high percentages of absentees will be closed.

2. However, if ten or more schools in the county each have less than 75 per cent attendance, all schools in the county will be closed by order of the board for the coming week.

The board decided at the meeting to keep the ban against operation of moving picture shows and all public gatherings such as churches and Sunday schools in effect through Sunday.

The board decided that theaters will be permitted to open Monday and continue in operation. However, if the schools are closed after the attendance check-up Monday, the theaters will not be permitted to let high school and grade school children go to the shows until after schools reopen.

Board members said that the latest survey of influenza cases indicates the epidemic is now probably at its peak, with more cases than during the early part of the week. However, the cases are mild and it is hoped that by Monday health conditions will be nearly normal.

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 14—Two counts on which Jerome A. Nevius former Clark county prosecutor, was convicted of bribery were dismissed today and a new trial was ordered on a third count.

Three judges of the First district appellate court, assigned to hear Nevius' appeal for a new trial, returned a 27-page decision citing numerous errors of procedure in the common pleas court trial held last summer.

Nevius, convicted July 7, was sentenced to one to 10 years in Ohio penitentiary. He has been free under $15,000 bond pending an appeal decision.

The judges' decision declared one of the state attorneys was guilty of misconduct in his arguments to the jury The attorney was not named.

The two counts dismissed were: (1) Accusing Nevius of accepting an automobile valued at $1,300 on Aug. 14, 1941, from Joseph Parisi and Ralph Schear, both of Dayton, with intent to influence Nevius in his official duties as prosecuting attorney.

Churches All Join in Drive To Help Clothe War Victims

A drive by Marion churches for clothing for overseas relief, set to begin Sunday, is regarded as outstanding in the church history of the city. "I think that in the history of Marion there never has been such cooperation among the churches on one project," Rev. Eldred Johnston, heading up the campaign, declared. "Churches of all denominations have expressed a willingness to share in this drive, joining hands for overseas relief Dec. 16 to 23. This drive is not under any certain organization. The only organization in this is our common Christian compassion for those in need."

In telling of the need for the campaign, Rev. Johnston, president of the Marion County Council of Churches, pointed out: "The recent war has left the majority of lands in Europe and Asia in tragic destitution.

3 BIG FIRMS WITH 200,000 WORKERS HIT

CIO Empoyes Favor Nationwide Walkout Five to One After January 1.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—CIO electrical workers, following the pattern set by CIO workers in the steel and automobile industries, voted almost five to one in favor of a countrywide strike, nearly complete balloting returns showed today.

The vote authorized a walkout of a union-estimated 200,000 workers after Jan. 1 in plants of three of the largest manufacturers of electric appliances—General Electric, Westinghouse and the Electrical Division of General Motors.

The National Labor Relations board said 86,794 workers voted in favor of a strike to back up their demands for a $2 daily wage boost; 18,216 balloted against.

Figures Agree

Figures released by the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers agreed with the NLRB ratio.

U. E. spokesmen have said no walkout would be called before the first of the new year.

About 700,000 steelworkers, asking a $2 daily pay increase, have voted to strike Jan. 14, and 213,000 auto workers walked out of their jobs last Nov. 21 in an effort to win a 30 per cent wage boost.

A breakdown of the NLRB tabulation showed 53,618 General Electric workers in 33 cities favoring a strike and 9,428 against; 35,866 Westinghouse workers in 37 cities for, and 9,031 against; 787 General Motors workers in two cities for, and 32 opposed.

The union reported that a third General Motors plant in Dayton, O., had voted 4,417 to 354 for a strike, but NLRB figures were not available.

The NLRB estimated 128,121 workers were eligible to vote.

Ask for Parley

After tabulation of votes last night, the United Electrical Workers sent messages to officials of General Electric and Westinghouse asking for negotiations to begin Monday. The workers "clearly expressed their determination to secure a $2 wage and salary increase," the messages said.

The messages declared a 13½ cent-an-hour wage increase offered by General Motors had been found unacceptable by the union.

More than 60,000 Westinghouse workers in 37 plants in 33 cities were eligible to vote yesterday. About 75 per cent took part in the balloting.

Only one plant was recorded as voting against the strike — the manufacturing and repair division at Baltimore, Md., where with 51 eligible, the vote was 15 no and 9 yes.

The vote at other plants included:

Lima, O., 1,713 yes, 362 no; Mansfield, O., 1,909 yes, 482 no.

Auto Leaders Turn To Ford and Kaiser As GM Rift Widens

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Dec. 14—Attention in the automotive wage disputes switched back to the Ford Motor Co. and to the industry's latest entrant today as impending action broadened the breach between General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers.

While Ford officials headed for further wage talks with the union this afternoon, the Kaiser-Frazer Corp., which has leased the giant Willow Run bomber plant for car production, was reported preparing an "entirely novel" company-union security plan.

Edward D. Riordan, director of Kaiser-Frazer's industrial relations, said the plans might be made public in advance of the firm's negotiations with the UAW-CIO next Monday.

R. J. Thomas, the union's international president was slated to head the UAW delegation.

Held Up By Demand

Ford began negotiations on a new contract Nov. 21 but discussion of the union's demand for a 30 per cent pay increase was held up pending agreement on a "company security" counter-demand.

BRITISH HOUSE OKAYS PACT

Commons Approves Agreement, Carrying Out Terms of U. S. Loan.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 14—The house of commons today gave final ratification to the Bretton Woods monetary stabilization pact, approval of which was one of the conditions laid down by the United States for a loan of $4,400,000,000 to Britain.

The measure was passed without dissent on its third and last reading and went at once to the house of lords. The action came barely 14 hours after commons had approved the terms of the loan by a vote of 345 to 98.

A sharp debate, punctuated by personal clashes between Labor and Conservative leaders, preceded the vote on the loan terms.

Led by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, many conservatives abstained from voting and drew caustic criticism from Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, who headed the government's fight for loan approval.

The war-time prime minister declared:

"I certainly am of the opinion we (the Conservatives) could have got better terms."

Bevin termed Churchill's assertion a "libel on the administration of the United States."

Churchill asked his Conservative adherents to refrain from voting, warning that a heavy opposition vote would injure British interests in the United States.

Churchill said he "was astonished that the United States thinks it worth while to extract the equivalent of 1.62 per cent interest in the special circumstances in which we find ourselves."

Conciliators Fail To End Bus Strike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—Another potential subject for government fact-finding plopped back into the labor department's lap today as federal conciliators failed to settle a 43-day strike of Greyhound bus drivers in 18 northeastern states.

Edgar L. Warren, chief of the department's conciliation service, said only that "something can be done" to end the walkout of 4,000 employes.

He added to reporters that he did not believe the government would take over the Greyhound lines, although two federal conciliators yesterday cited "the very great inconvenience to the public in the 18 states involved and the approach of the holiday season and Christmas furloughs for service men."

Howard T. Colvin, Warren's assistant, and Martin J. O'Connell, a conciliation commissioner, announced the collapse of negotiations between the bus operators and the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway, and Motor Coach Employes.

They said in a joint statement that the union had accepted a "strongly-urged" federal fact-finding proposal but that the two companies — Pennsylvania Greyhound and Central Greyhound—had refused.

The union struck Nov. 1 over demands for a wage rate of 5.75 cents a mile and a 30 per cent boost for garage and terminal employes. The companies offered 5.3 cents a mile west of Pittsburgh, 5.4 cents a mile east of Pittsburgh, and a 10-cent hourly increase for terminal and garage employes.

MAKES POSTMASTER GUESS

By The United Press

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Next time a Cheyenne businessman gives his secretary money with which to buy stamps, he's going to be more explicit in his directions. He handed his secretary a $30 check and told her to buy some stamps. She addressed an envelope to the local postmaster, put the check in it and sent the letter on its way with nothing in it but the check. She explained later that she thought the postmaster "would know what to do with it and we'd get the stamps."

HIGH DEATH TOLL IN HOTEL BLAZE FEARED

By The Associated Press

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 14—Police Chief Charles Wells said today there might be "possibly 10 to 15" bodies in the ruins of the Glenwood hotel, a 59-year-old brick structure which burst suddenly into flames about midnight and was destroyed.

Wells emphasized, however, that no immediate check was possible. The fire was brought under control about 2 a. m. after the four-story building had been gutted and the front wall had collapsed into the street.

At dawn, fire crews attacked the tottering walls of the hotel on three sides, clearing the way for a party that stood by to search the ruins for bodies of possible victims.

The hotel register burned, preventing an immediate check of the guests.

PEARL HARBOR

take over, but said they could not work longer than December and through the early part of January.

When Mitchell had concluded his statement, Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) told the counsel:

"So far as this committee, the congress and the country is concerned, this development is tragic."

Besides Mitchell, the staff includes:

Gerhard Gesell, chief assistant counsel; and Jule M. Hannaford and John E. Masten, assistant counsel.

Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif) demanded today that the Pearl Harbor investigation "get the real story" of the Japanese attack from enlisted men who were in Hawaii Dec. 7, 1941.

Gearhart said he "is tired of hearing brass."

Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, chief of Army war plans in December, 1941, was recalled to the stand today.

Get Navy Report

Late yesterday members were handed a two-volume "narrative statement" on Pearl Harbor investigations the Navy has conducted. The bulk of the data was not new. However, there were such items as these:

1. Intercepted Japanese messages showed Tokyo advised Berlin on Nov. 30, 1941, "there is extreme danger that war may suddenly break out between the Anglo-Saxon nations and Japan."

2. A denial that the Navy ever received a "winds" message which intercepted Tokyo instructions had said would be broadcast to inform Japanese consuls of any impending break in diplomatic relations.

3. That Capt. Alwin Kramer of the Navy once testified, but later withdrew the statement, that on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, he suggested to Knox that the 1 p. m. hour for delivery of a final Japanese note here coincided with 7:30 a. m. in Hawaii.

4. That Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, Navy commander at Pearl Harbor, and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, the Army chief there, could not agree who should command Army troops it was proposed to send to garrison Wake and Midway islands.

5. That Kimmel was disturbed in September, 1941, that there might be "some in Washington who might be inclined to overlook" the needs of Pacific defenders.

Hit Fleet Tie-up

6. That in October of 1941 Kimmel went on record as feeling that "a fleet, tied to its bases by diversion for other purposes, of light forces necessary for its security at sea, is, in a real sense, no fleet at all."

7. That on Nov. 7, 1941, Adm. Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, wrote Kimmel from Washington: "Things seem to be moving steadily towards a crisis in the Pacific * * * a month may see literally, most anything."

8. That on Nov. 7, 1941, the day of a war warning message from Washington, Kimmel "made his decision not to increase the measures of the fleet in port and not to inaugurate either a total or partial long-range air search or reconnaissance from Oahu, though there were sufficient planes to conduct such a search in the known more dangerous sectors."

Gearhart said he received a letter from a man who served with the Air Corps as a clerk at Hickam field, the Army air base in Hawaii which was shattered by bombing and strafing Japanese planes.

The letter, dated Dec. 3, 1945, bore the signature of Stephen L. Carmalt, Pittsburgh.

Carmalt said Hickam field was on an all-out alert from Dec. 1 to Dec. 6, but that the alert was called off the day before the attack.

WOONSOCKET, R. I.—A former Army paratrooper has offered to put his war training to good use in civilian life to get an apartment. PREDICT OHIO JOBS TO PASS WAR LEVEL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—Ohio employers estimate next spring's employment will be 11 per cent above the number of workers on payrolls shortly after the war's end this fall.

Paul S. Clapp, vice president of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., told the 52nd annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce today that a statewide survey showed employers anticipating 11 per cent more workers on their rolls by April of 1946 than they had in September of this year.

Clapp said questionnaires were sent to 52,000 employers by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation jointly with the United States Employment Service and in cooperation with the employment committee of the post-war program commission. Clapp is chairman of the latter organization.

He reported tabulation of the answers from 30,000 employers showed that on Sept. 15, 1945, they had 1,114,000 workers. These employers estimated 1,240,000 would be employed by April 15, a rise of 11 per cent.

Clapp said these employers judge Jan. 15th employment at 1,180,000, an increase of six per cent over Sept. 15.

WEATHER MAY SPOIL BEIGHTLER WELCOME

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—Bad weather may disrupt plans for the all-Ohio homecoming celebration here for Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler and members of the famous 37th Division which he commanded in Pacific area battles.

Finishing touches were put on welcoming plans today with naming of Lockbourne Army Air Base and Port Columbus personnel to the official committee planning to meet General Beightler and his staff on their arrival by plane tomorrow noon.

Homecoming officials fear the plane might be delayed by storms.

Homecoming Chairman George M. Ward emphasized that the festivities planned in honor of the division's return from three years and eight months of combat were to honor all Ohio veterans.

Marysville, Beightler's home-town, has invited the general to speak Wednesday night at a welcome for servicemen there. Springfield also announced a celebration was being planned there.

A parade through downtown Columbus Sunday afternoon will be followed by a public reception in the statehouse rotunda with Gov. and Mrs. Lausche in the receiving line.

A homecoming banquet, sponsored by the 37th Division Veterans association, will be held Sunday night followed by an all-service homecoming ball in Memorial hall.

An army of four divisions, 100,000 men, marching along a single road would form a column 60 miles long.

A-BOMB TEST DUE IN SPRING

Blast Expected in Pacific Will Reveal Effect on Ships.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—The ... is expected to get ... in a remote corner ... sometime next ...

... White House announced that President Truman suggested the joint ... test against warships ... for early action. ... actions may require as ... months.

... to selecting and preparing ships, it will be necessary to assemble precision instruments and scientists.

... will come what the two ... describe as "large problems in logistics"—moving this ... floating and flying laboratory to a distant ocean area ... carrying it.

... of the test area will be a major task. Scientists can only estimate the results of an atomic bomb explosion over or in the ocean. The weather must be checked closely to determine the drift of air charged with ... activity by an explosion. Small ... guards must be established in relation to the sea, with its mineral content capable of radioactivity.

Officials say it is obvious the bombing range will be located as far as possible from populated coast lines or shipping lanes and also that it will be desirable to keep away from commercial fishing areas.

These specifications for a proving ground point to the Pacific, although final determination has not been made.

Mr. Truman's suggestion for an early test on warships apparently was motivated to give prompt guidance in broad planning for national defense and to provide a yardstick for measuring forthcoming appropriations for the Army and Navy.

TRUMAN WILL HONOR OHIO DRAFT OFFICIAL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—Col. H. F. Boucher, deputy director of state selective service announced today that a drawing would be held Tuesday to pick a Ohio member of some Ohio draft board to receive from President Truman personally a special medal and certificate Jan. 21 at the White House.

All draft board members who have served two or more years eventually will receive such awards as "public recognition of the patriotism and self sacrifice of the uncompensated members of the system." However, only five-year members—there are 1,004 in Ohio—are eligible for the chance to receive them from the President.

Boucher said that after the eligible board members had been honored, physicians and dentists who have given physical examinations to prospective inductees also would be given medals. The awards were authorized by congress.

Awards to board members other than the one representing the whole state at the White House will be made by Gov. Lausche in ceremonies at Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo, Zanesville, and Chillicothe. No dates have been picked yet.

Selective service officers were unable to estimate how many two-year members would receive the awards, since many no longer are serving.

Oddities in News Around the State

When a stranger asks what it means, an informed patron replies, "If I tell you will you buy a drink?"

LORAIN — The Lorain Journal published recently this "special communique" for a local dentist:

"That day a week or so ago when you were working on the teeth of a young Lorain matron and you heard a ripping sound like the tearing of cloth and you cautiously looked yourself over for fear it was your trousers or shirt or something.

"You needn't have been so concerned about yourself. The patient says it was her wartime girdle that cut loose in one of the seams. She has some poker face, Doc!"

SALEM—Cpl. John K. Phalin, in a letter to his wife here, related that while looking for windshield glass in a Tokyo warehouse he found a brick of silver worth $16,000.

He reluctantly turned his prize over to the proper authorities, however, for metals are classified as "war" and may not be kept as souvenirs.

NEW YORK, Dec 14—Photograph-like television in black and white—actually the best pictures yet produced—will be available in the post-war home receivers, it was indicated in the latest demonstration at the RAC laboratories in Princeton, N. J.

But black and white wasn't all. There were pictures in color, some in a third dimension.

This part of the show was the first time color had been publicly displayed in something like four years. The image was produced with the aid of a motor driven drum containing red, blue and green filters. The third dimension effect was obtained by polarized masks in the [illegible] with the lookers wear [illegible] glasses.

PLANS CONSIDERED FOR SCIOTO PLANT AREA ROADS

Preparations Made for Return to County.

Preliminary negotiations have been started for the county to take back roads running through the Scioto Ordnance Plant tract, county officials said today. No details have been worked out, pending advice of legal counsel.

Considerable difficulties are expected because operations in the tract during the war years have changed the width, direction and location of some roads. Drainage and sewage arrangements, satisfactory during the operation of the Ordnance Plant, will have to be changed radically before the land can be thrown back to farming. The plant itself is up for disposal by the surplus property board.

An infantry division normally comprises about 15,000 men, an armored division 10,000 and airborne 8,000.

Judge Smith Speaks at Meeting of Grange

Paul D Smith, judge of the court of common pleas of Marion county, spoke at a meeting of Bethlehem Grange in the Grange hall, Wednesday night. He talked on the history of courts and present day justice.

The meeting was in charge of Walter Bender, and the lecture hour was directed by Mrs. Raymond Hinklin. Christmas carols were sung. A Christmas program will be given Dec 26.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Warning Against Yule Fire Dangers Is Issued by Chief

Because of the approaching holiday season and plans for presentation of pageants or other Christmas ceremonies, Owen A. Sifritt, Marion fire chief, issued a reminder today regarding the dangers of using lighted candles in such presentations.

Sometimes groups of children in fancy costumes carry lighted candles. In doing so, they risk their lives, Chief Sifritt says. Records show similar conditions have brought tragic results. In any ceremony, electric candles run by flashlight batteries may be used safely.

Hazards Pointed Out

He also emphasized that lighted candles should not be used on Christmas trees or in windows. Special hazards are present during Christmas time with trees, tissue paper wrappings and inflammable decorations and great care should be taken against fire hazards created by having lighted candles or by persons smoking.

If you are unable to purchase safe decorations, Chief Sifritt stated, materials can be made partially fire-resistive by spraying them with a solution containing nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid to one gallon of water. The fabric should be well saturated with the solution drained and hung to dry.

He also reminded all persons that if their clothing catches fire lie flat quickly and roll into a rug or blanket to smother the flames, keep the face cover, be sure around the neck to protect the face and hair. He cautioned all persons to remember not to run if clothing catches fire.

Some Important Rules

The following rules should be observed during the Christmas holidays: set the Christmas tree away from heating and lighting fixtures, anchor it securely with the butt in a pan of water; use non-burning ornaments and fire resistive decorations; avoid all lighted candles, use miniature lights identified as safe by the label of the Underwriters' Laboratories, dispose of tissue wrappings immediately, avoid giving dangerous toys such as those requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline for motive power; smokers should be extremely careful about lighted cigars or cigarets when near special decorations, costumes and gift papers.

Life Underwriters Meet at Harding

Marion Association of Life Underwriters met last night at Hotel Harding.

Guest speaker for the evening was Paul M. Smith, past president of Ohio Underwriter association and general agent in Columbus for the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. First part of his address concerned the organization of National Association of Life Underwriters and what that organization means to all in the business of Life Insurance and to the public. Secondly, the importance of the present insurance market was emphasized and finally the wide variance between the minimum and the top notch producer was brought out, together with the steps necessary to step from a lower to a higher plane.

Much emphasis was placed on the contemplated program for the January meeting when the program will be built around the benefits available to returning veterans through National Service Life Insurance, the GI Bill of Rights for Veterans, and the assistance which can be rendered by competent life underwriters.

Business included the election of three more directors of the association and the announcement that total paid membership now is forty-two. The new directors are LeRoy E. Sherer, Carson J. Cook and Wilford F. Schweinfurth.

Snow and Odds Are Falling on Rams for Title Battle

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 14 — Snow and the pre-game odds are falling on the Cleveland Rams as they gird for their National Football league title playoff with the Washington Redskins Sunday

Six-point choices of the odds fellows a week ago, the youthful Rams were scant three-point favorites today for the championship clash before an expected record-breaking crowd of 55 000 in snow-swept lakefront Stadium.

League Publicity Manager George Strickler predicted that Sunday's turnout of fans would smash the circuit's paid attendance mark of 46 016 set last year when the Green Bay Packers toppled the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds

A flood of pre-game ticket sales will send game receipts far above last year's record o $146,204.15, Strickler reported. He said there were "very good prospects" of a crowd of 55,000 fans for the contest. Advance sales of tickets already have reached $121,000.

Benton Wants Out

Lanky Jim Benton, star pass-catcher who led the league in yardage gained on receptions, worked out with the Rams at the National Guard armory yesterday, quelling rumors he would be sidelined for the title game

Benton battery-mate of brilliant Bob Waterfield has been suffering from a "cold"

A five-inch blanket of snow, topping some 9,000 bales of straw, was removed from the Stadium yesterday by a crew of 75 city workmen. But two inches of flakes fell last night. Another two-inch flurry was predicted today by the U S weather bureau.

"Regardless of the amount of snow that falls, the field will be dry and sound for Sunday's game" Strickler said

The announcement of league yardage figures for the season was partially responsible for the betting gentry's sudden coolness toward the Rams

The Redskins outgained the Clevelanders by a slim three yards during the season and Slingin' Sammy Baugh gave the 'Skins a 71-yard margin in net yards gained by passing The Rams led in net yards by rushing but the two squads were nearly deadlocked in most departments.

BIG TEN RESUMES

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec 14 — Western conference basketball teams, except Iowa's defending champions, will be active tomorrow, but only one game will count in the 1945-46 title race. Ohio State and Illinois open the Big Ten season at Champaign The other seven teams tackle non-conference opposition. Last season the Buckeyes finished second in the Big Ten race with a 10-2 record Illinois was third, 7-5 The teams split even in two games last year.

FRESHMAN STAR — Huey Keeney, 170-pound halfback, was one of the top gridiron freshmen this season. Playing for Rice at Houston he gained 394 yards and went for touchdowns on runs of 70, 49 and 26 yards His punting too, was something.

STATE NAMES RIDER CONSERVATION HEAD

Springfield Man Waters' Successor; Fish Limits Lifted.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—Ohio's new conservation commissioner is 49-year-old H. A. (Buck) Rider of Springfield, an ardent conservationist who has been prepping as the assistant guardian of the state's natural resources for the past seven years

The Ohio conservation commission named Rider yesterday to succeed Commissioner Don G Waters, who resigned from the $5,000-a-year post and was named supervisor of Lake Erie conservation activities at $3,600 a year. Rider was assistant to Waters, who said he resigned to devote more time to his Elmore, Ottawa county, home.

The commission also announced an experimental program under which fishing restrictions were lifted on ine state lakes and two rivers. It said restrictions were lifted on the following lakes under the theory that waters can be under-fished as well as over-fished:

St. Marys, in Augaize and Mercer counties, Conservation District One;

Charles Mill, in Ashland and Richland counties, District Two.

Guilford, Columbia county, district three;

Leesville in Carroll county and Seneca in Noble and Guernsey counties, District Four;

Buckeye in Fairfield and Licking counties, District Five;

Loramie in Shelby county, District Six, and

Alma in Vinton county and Jackson in Jackson county, District Seven.

The two streams affected are Grand river, flowing through Ashtabula and Lake counties into Lake Erie, and Shade river, flowing into the Ohio in Meigs county.

There will be no bag limit, no legal length of catch and no closed season.

Beau Jack Favored Over Joyce Tonight

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec 14—Beau Jack, one of boxing's biggest draws, comes back to Madison Square Garden tonight, a 1 to 2 favorite to beat Willie Joyce over the 10-round route

Lured by the return of the bouncing Beau, who served 16 months in the Army, a crowd of more than 15,000 is expected to contribute to a gross gate of close to $100,000 at $12 tops.

Joyce, a Gary, Ind., southpaw, is regarded as a tough hurdle for the Beau after his long layoff, but recent workouts of the former lightweight champion from Augusta, Ga., has convinced most of the Broadway betting fraternity

Manager Chick Weigeles expects the beau to weigh in around 140 Willie will tip the scales around 137

HEADS K. C. BLUES

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY Dec 14—Multi-millionaire Del E Webb, a part owner of the New York Yankees, is the new president of the Kansas City Blues of the American association, succeeding Roy Harvey.

Van Buren Only Unanimous Choice for All-Pro

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Steve Van Buren, the terrific ball toter of the Philadelphia Eagles playing his second year in the National league, is the only unanimous choice for the All-Pro team selected today by Associated Press sports writers around the circuit.

Next to the former Louisiana State star came Cleveland's Bob Waterfield, rookie of the year. The passing-punting-scoring pro ace, who did more than any other player to put the Rams in the championship playoffs, was only one vote away from a perfect count.

Big Jim Benton, teammate of Waterfield, not only led the great Don Hutson in yards gained by catching passes during the league season but he also topped the ace end in the eyes of the All-Pro selectors.

BOB WATERFIELD
Led Rams to First Title

Of course the honor business is an old story for Hutson. This is the eighth straight year the Green Bay standby has made the top team while creating new records every time he caught a pass or crossed an enemy goal line

Don is one of four repeaters from the 1944 team. The others are Al Wistert, 215-pound Philadelphia tackle Riley Matheson, 205-pound Cleveland guard, and Van Buren

Besides Waterfield and Benton, the other newcomers are ball carriers Steve Bagarus, Washington Redskin freshman, and Bob Westfall, Detroit sophomore, tackle Frank Cope, eight-year man with the New York Giants; guard Bill Radovich, with Detroit for five years, and Charley Brock, Green Bay center for seven years

As far as team representation goes, Cleveland placed three men on the All-Pro team; Detroit, Philadelphia and Green Bay, two each; Washington and New York one player apiece.

Here and There in Ohio Sports

By HAROLD HARRISON
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—Ohio State's Bucks gradually are getting their own all-time, All-America football team.

Selection this week of Warren Amling on The Associated Press All-America gives Ohio State two guards, two ends and three backs named on those teams in the years in which they have been selected by The AP and previously by Walter Camp

The lineup, with the years in which the players were selected, now reads: at ends, Wesley Fesler (1929-30) and Bob Shaw (1942) and guards, Bill Hackett (1944) and Amling (1945) and in the backfield, Chick Harley (1918-19), Pete Stinchcomb (1920) and Les Horvath (1944).

If two tackles, a center and another back will just show up now, Ohio State will have its all-timer

They Can Use 'Em ..

The Columbus Redbirds, who finished a dismal last in the 1945 American Association pennant race believe things are looking up for the 1946 campaign

Latest words from the Redbirds' front office is that the team will be knee deep in experienced catching talent with Tommy Heath the latest to report he'd be back. In addition the flock figures to have Eddie Malone, on lend-lease from Rochester, Johnny Buche and Dick Gracey as well as four rookies ..

The outfield prospects, says President Al Banister, are equally bright Eddie Dyer, new manager of the St Louis Cardinals indicated the parent club would provide some help and the dope is that Jim Gleeson George Stumpf and Jim Basso are headed back Columbus-way

TRAIN HITS TRUCK LOADED WITH TIRES

Semi-Trailer Struck at Crossing in Mt. Victory.

Brand new automobile tires scattered for three blocks when a New York Central freight train struck a semi-trailer at the crossing in Mt. Victory at 8:50 p. m. last night, state patrolmen from the Marion sub-station reported. The driver, Gilbert Marx Brownfield, 40, of Coshocton, was jostled in the cab of the truck along the track and escaped with two scratched fingers on his left hand.

According to the report, the watchman at the crossing on Route 31 in Mt. Victory, attempted to stop the northbound truck before the driver reached the crossing. The train, eastbound was traveling at about 40 miles an hour, patrolmen reported. The driver told patrolmen he was blinded by lights from another car stopped on the other side of the crossing and he failed to see the watchman in time. The truck was struck in the center. The truck and trailer were demolished and the cargo of tires was scattered along the tracks. Names of the train crew were not known.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CLEVELAND Dec 14— From the locos of Cleveland and surrounding territory. Slinging Sammy Baugh and Bowling Bob Waterfield are to age a heck of a snowball fight in the pro football playoff Sunday. Three of the clubs in the All-America conference—Cleveland, Chicago and Brooklyn—are reported bidding in telephone numbers to get Sid Luckman from the Bears—Jeff Heath's explanation of his appearance at the late unlamented Chicago baseball meetings was that he had to be there to find out what was going on because there was a newspaper strike in his home town. The midwest still claims to be the center of the basketball world but you'll notice the opening doubleheader in Madison Square Garden drew more than 18,000 and the first in Chicago stadium only 8,329.

Sold Out

The Browns Lake Scovell tells about trying to make a deal at the 1944 winter baseball meetings just like he had with the New York baseball magnate pennant. Lee Scovell approached another manager for a certain player. "We will give" the other gent asked. Scovell presented a proposal over on the Browns. The second baseman he wanted. "I don't see anybody there who would help me."

First Jap Trials Set in Prison Atrocities

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Dec. 14—The murder of eight Allied nationals was charged today in specifications filed by the U. S. Eighth army against the first five Japanese to be prosecuted in Japan for prison atrocities.

A U. S. military commission appointed to conduct the trials will meet in Yokohama Monday and arraignments may be held then.

The five Japanese are former prison camp officials and the specifications charge them with inflicting brutalities and suffering in hundreds of specific cases involving thousands of prisoners. Each defendant is charged with the death of at least one American.

Food Collection by Pupils Now Totals Nine Tons

A steady stream of canned food is still pouring into St. Mary school, via the students, and the latest check reveals that 18,000 pounds have been donated.

The drive, sponsored by the National Catholic Welfare Conference, is designed to help feed the starving people of Europe and the Far East. Rev. James J. Carroll, assistant pastor of St. Mary parish, is supervising the drive in Marion and Morrow counties.

In his report today, Father Carroll stated that somewhere along the line they lost track of the exact number of cans, but it was safe to say that there were at least 10,000.

The number turned in to date is five times the original quota.

The seventh grade is leading with 238 per cent of its room quota. In the high school, the seniors have 167 per cent and are tied with the freshman class. Grade six is ranking second in the elementary grades with 219 per cent.

The individual students who are leading with the greatest amount of cans are Eugene Patton, seventh grade, and Anna Klaus, senior.

In addition to the individual awards to the boy and girl turning in the greatest number, Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor, has promised a half-day holiday to each grade in both the elementary grades and high school who are declared winners.

Saturday is the final day of the drive and at that time a report from the smaller communities will also be available.

More than half of the cans have already been sorted and parted by members of the faculty, students and parish members and the loading will start on Saturday.

Fishing is the principal occupation of the people of Newfoundland.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

KATHARINE has the sort of voice that can "coax the birds off the bushes." In addition, my mother-in-law, is exceedingly fond of Jack Bickett's winsome and extremely competent wife, who, until the war, was so long a part of our farmhouse family.

So I was not surprised to see her look up at Katherine with an assenting smile.

"Thank you," she said. "I think I should like that very much."

Katherine held out her hand, and the older woman took it, accepting the aid which helped her to her feet. Then the nurse slipped her hand beneath my mother-in-law's elbow, and piloted her toward the door.

But we had reckoned without Faith.

As she saw her grandmother moving away, she slipped from her father's lap.

"Granzie!" she protested, getting between the two women and the door. "Where are you going?"

Her grandmother stopped, and put an affectionate hand on the little girl's shoulder.

"I'm going over to our apartment, Pet," she said, "for a nap."

"Our apartment?" Faith repeated.

"Yes, Darling," her grandmother answered. "Didn't you know you and I were going to have an apartment all to ourselves?"

"Oh, Gee!" Faith caroled. "I want to go over there, too, and take a nap with you."

Breath of Relief

I drew a sharp breath of relief. It was one of two things I wanted.

The first was to get Faith out of the apartment with her grandmother. The other was Noel's departure for a few minutes, leaving Jack, Katherine, Dicky, Mary and myself to discuss the few remaining angles of the problem of the photographs. Noel's going was on the lap of the gods; I could, however, speed Faith's departure.

"That is a wonderful idea, Faith," I said. "Shall I come over, too, Mother, to see that she doesn't disturb you?"

I realized my mistake as soon as the words were out of my mouth, but I could not catch them.

My mother-in-law's figure stiffened, and she lifted her head proudly.

"I am not aware, Margaret," she said icily, "that I ever have required aid from you or anyone else in disciplining my grandchildren. Faith will not disturb me in the least."

"I am sure she won't," I said placatingly. "I really said that about her disturbing you without thinking. But I shall come over for a minute, nevertheless. You will need your luggage. Gus piled it in the hall here, and I will bring it over right away."

A Hen Party

"With me to help," Mary said, springing to her feet. "No," as Noel and Jack also rose, "this is strictly a hen party. My grandmother doesn't want any men around when she's fixing to take a nap. And the luggage isn't heavy anyway. Faith could handle it, if she had to."

The next instant she was advancing with me to the door, where we picked up the bags which my mother-in-law had brought in from the farm for her sojourn and Faith's and went out of the door and around the corner to the apartment which Philip Veritzen had provided for them.

We found Faith happily gazing out of the window, and exclaiming at the sights in the street below, and with a wary eye at my mother-in-law, who, I knew, was best off in Katherine's hands, Mary and I set down the luggage, and with a laughing "Good napping, Granzie" from irrepressible Mary, stole out of the apartment.

Catches Madge's Arm

In the corridor outside, Mary caught my arm.

"So far, so good!" she said. "Two danger spots eliminated! Faith is dynamite, and while Granzie would never spill a single lentil, I wouldn't like her to know about George's performances or Noel's—or mine," she concluded honestly.

"Now," I said, "if Noel would only go away for a few minutes, the rest of us could knit up a few raveled threads."

"If!" she echoed ruefully. "But I'll try my best to think up some excuse for getting him out of the way."

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M. D.

Respiratory Ill

A cold is an infection of the nose and throat. At present, the most prevalent idea is that colds are originally due to a virus, that is, an organism so small that it can pass through a porcelain filter.

However, infection with germs such as streptococcus and staphylococcus easily follows the virus infection.

The same sort of thing may also occur in a disorder known as acute laryngotracheobronchitis according to Doctor Harry L. Baum of Denver, Colorado. Doctor Baum thinks that this condition is also primarily a virus infection which is followed by infection of the tissues by streptococcus germs.

In laryngotracheobronchitis, there are fever, cough and difficulty in breathing, since the disorder causes swelling of the lining membrane of the voice box or larynx and the trachea or windpipe, as well as the small tubes in the lungs known as the bronchi. It was believed for some time that the condition was due primarily to streptococcic infection. Hence, it was hoped that the sulfonamide drugs, which are active against such infections, might be helpful in the treatment of the condition.

According to Doctor Baum, the sulfonamide drugs have proven of little value. Furthermore, penicillin also, he thinks, will not be helpful in treating the primary infection, but may be useful in combating the streptococcus infection which follows.

It is suggested that perhaps the best method of treatment available at present for laryngotracheobronchitis is the use of blood serum taken from a person who has recently recovered from an attack of the disorder. It is frequently found that some member of the patient's family has recently recovered from about the same type of respiratory infection as that from which the patient with laryngotracheobronchitis is suffering. If such serum is not available, Doctor Baum thinks anti-streptococcic serum or scarlet fever serum may be administered.

The amount of serum to be given will depend upon the severity of the infection and the size of the patient. Little improvement is to be expected during the first 24 hours, but after that time the symptoms steadily disappear. Sometimes the condition is so severe as almost completely to shut off the breathing passages.

In some instances, this may be relieved by using an instrument known as a laryngoscope through which the accumulated secretions may be sucked out. In some severe instances, it may be necessary to do an operation known as tracheotomy in which an opening into the windpipe is made from the outside.

Laryngotracheobronchitis is a serious disorder which requires prompt treatment.

RAID HITLER CULT

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 14—A group of masked men, reported to have said they were determined to "stamp out this Hitler cult," last night raided the Kingdom House, headquarters of the Legion Of Christian Reformers, and beat up the custodian. Some of the raiders were in naval uniforms, said Arthur Schneider, who took the beating. The Legion's spokesmen have said they consider Hitler was a divine instrument.

Fire Causes $300 Loss in Grocery Store Here

A fire of undetermined origin starting in the storage room at the rear of the Lawler grocery at Oak and Silver streets resulted in an estimated damage of $300, Chief Owen A. Sibbitt reported. The fire was discovered at 7:29 p. m. yesterday just as Mr. Lawler was preparing to close for the night.

The merchandise was stored on a loft in a room to the rear of the store proper. Smoke damage was reported in two apartments located on the second floor. The call was answered by firemen from the East Main street station and quad truck from Central station.

Yes, We Did Sell NYLONS Yesterday

THERE have been so many inquiries regarding Nylons that we are attempting to answer a few of them. In the first place we haven't received enough to advertise and until we do have them in quantities to justify an advertisement we will not give them any kind of publicity.

However, just this week we received limited allotments from two of our good hosiery resources and we concluded to place them on sale yesterday. No one knew beforehand that they were available for sale until they were placed on the counters.

Until we can begin receiving regular shipments of these hose we will place any small quantities which might be received on sale and they will be sold, without previous notice, to customers who happen to be in the store at that time.

This plan we feel, distributes Nylons to our customers in the fairest possible manner.

AWAITING YOU IN THE AMERICAN LEGION

By proclamation of Governor Frank J. Lausche, Dec. 15th is American Legion Day in Ohio.

On this day every post of The American Legion is holding open house in order to get acquainted with the returning veterans. It is the duty of your local post to invite you and your family to the activities of the day. However there are a great many of you returned veterans and your local post may not have your name. Let this be your invitation to get acquainted. Make yourself known to some Legionnaire personally or through a friend. Or, if you care to, just go to your local post and join in the activities. The members of the Legion are all war veterans, yes veterans of World War I and II. They have this in common—love of country. They like the American way of life here at home and it is their sincere aim to keep it that way.

If you were a soldier, sailor, marine or coast guard you owe it to yourself to join this great patriotic organization. Membership in the Legion brings with it benefits that come only through a group of men working for the benefit of their country and each other.

What finer Christmas present could an active Legionnaire give a friend or relative than a membership in The American Legion? For men and women still in the service membership can be had at a reduced cost. A Legion membership for Christmas to an eligible veteran will show the Legion's appreciation of their services and make them welcome into the ranks as Legionnaires.

10% more than wartime take-home pay refused by UAW-CIO

Before GM workers were called out on strike, the UAW-CIO refused an offer aimed to increase wartime take-home pay by at least 10%. Read the background and ask yourself, does this make sense?

HERE ARE THE SIMPLE FACTS:

1. During the last year of the war, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker earned $56.93 per week.

This is based on actual records of the money paid and the number of people working. To earn this money they worked an average of 45.6 hours per week.

2. The public demand for GM products and services is enough to keep our plants working at the wartime level of 45 to 48 hours weekly.

During the period of shortages, we plan to operate at this rate, barring work stoppages due to causes beyond our control. In fact, some of our plants were working 48 hours a week when the strike was called. The number of people employed when reconversion is completed and our new plants and facilities are in production, will be larger than before the war.

3. General Motors offered to ... wage rates in line with ... living.

Since January 1941, G... have increased ... was called, the ...

4. The UAW-CIO turned down a proposal which would have given the average GM worker $63.44 a week.

Under this offer, the average General Motors hourly-rate worker would have received $63.44 for the same number of hours for which he was paid $56.93 during the war. This is at least 33% more than he would have received in January 1941 if he had worked the same number of hours then. The union rejected the offer. The strike continues. The workers are getting nothing.

and called the strike. This offer has finally been determined to amount to an average of 13½ cents per hour.

5. What does the UAW-CIO want?

Government figures say that the cost of living has gone up 33% since January 1, 1941. As already pointed out, General Motors has offered this much to its workers. But the union insists it wants 30% more than present rates, which are already substantially higher than 1941 rates. In ... it wants "30 for 40"—30 hours' pay for ... hours' work.

Let's End the Puddle-Jumping

PEOPLE of Marion as well as visitors from the outside are well aware that many sidewalks of the city, especially those in the downtown area, are hardly fit for a backwoods settlement, much less for a community of some 35,000 population which aims to be modern and progressive. The evidence is glaring and inescapable, particularly when slush or rain comes and pedestrians must walk zig-zag or do some expert broad jumping to avoid puddles and miniature ponds in the numerous low spots which have been worn into the old stones by footsteps of several generations.

Now we read that an effort is under way to have this deplorable and inexcusable situation remedied by having new sidewalks of uniform construction and design laid in conformance with specifications on file at the city engineer's office. This work should be done as soon as possible. It was advocated by The Star several years ago at the time city council passed an ordinance setting up the sidewalk specifications and we are in favor of it now more emphatically than ever. Our belief is that the unsightly and unsafe condition of Marion's sidewalks, particularly those in the business area, is barely short of a disgrace to the city.

During the war not much could be done toward effecting this most urgently needed improvement. Possibly shortage of labor and material now would prevent doing a considerable portion of the work at this time. There is no reason, however, why all the necessary preliminaries could not be attended to immediately, so that everything will be in readiness for going ahead with the actual improvement when the right time arrives. In all likelihood that may be not later than next spring.

COMMUNITY leaders and public officials have put in much time and study lining up a list of community projects for the postwar era. The estimated cost of most of these runs into big figures and all are worth every dollar included in the estimates. But here is one improvement overlooked by the planners which is needed just as much as some of the others and which can be made at comparatively small cost. It would, in fact, cost the general taxpaying public nothing, for the sidewalks would be paid for by owners of the properties along which the sidewalks extend. These property owners are the ones who must be induced to have the work done and that should not be difficult, for certainly they will readily recognize this improvement not just as an item of expense but as an investment of value to themselves and their business tenants. At the same time it would make Marion the "better and more attractive city" which has been referred to so often in our campaign to remedy the city's defects. And of course any steps taken toward that goal are obviously beneficial to business and owners of the properties in which business operates.

In order to bring about the improvement program, which should be so absolutely complete that the downtown district would have an entire uniform system of sidewalks laid in conformance with the city's official specifications, someone or some group will have to take the matter in hand and lead the way to definite action. Just who this should be is not for us to decide. But it ought to be done and sooner or later must be done. The mayor could take the initiative, or the city council, or the Chamber of Commerce, or possibly all of them acting in cooperation.

At any rate, let's get it done.

No One Is Immune

THE serious injury to Gen. George S. Patton Jr. in a traffic accident in Germany is typical of a postwar fate that already has overtaken thousands and awaits thousands more. In the United States, in every country relying on automobiles for transportation, the traffic accident rate is beginning a swift climb to prewar levels.

With whatever small difference may result from the net shrinkage in the total number of automobiles still in use, the United States will return to its prewar proportions: the all-time high was reached in 1941 when 37,512 persons were killed in automobile accidents, a rate of 29.1. For a decade and a-half, automobiles have been one of the chief causes of death in the United States.

The significant thing about their toll is the fact it can be reduced at will by safety campaigns. Reckless driving in European military zones, incidentally, has been treated as an accident prevention problem, just as it is at home; the immediate result of the Patton accident will be a wider margin of safety for other Americans in Germany and France. Here at home, the sharp rise in the traffic accident and fatality rates also will intensify the safety campaigns which, beginning late in 1937, reduced the fatality toll from 37,205 that year to 30,564 the following year and held it at approximately that level until 1941. The following year, the first year of the war, with automobile mileage rationed, fatalities dropped to 28,300. No one is immune to the danger of sudden death at the hands of reckless users of automobiles.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Is Byrnes on Journey of Appeasement?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—Secretary of State Byrnes goes to Moscow. He says the Iranian government will make the trek also. So both Mohammed and the mountain go to Moscow.

The senate, as all knowing individuals here, is worried. Realizing this, before his departure, the state secretary took both the senators and the press into his confidence in off-the-record meetings.

The attitude of the worried senators and individuals is this:

The Truman-Byrnes foreign policy has been working well, by comparison with the appeasement policy of the Roosevelt administration, designed to goad the Russians to ever greater war against the Nazis.

We have not established much, except our position in China. We have lost in Iran. The Russians are in the process of conquering that country.

But at least we have not lost abjectly. We have won and lost, by defending our position, the Roosevelt Atlantic charter, against make-believe freedom for peoples and world-democracy. We have ceased to lose every conference.

We ceased our losing because we had an adamant attitude, for what we believed was right. Does Mr. Byrnes' trip to Moscow mean we have abandoned that attitude?

Senators' Fear

Frankly, the senators think it may. They think generally appeasement of Britain (with money) is to be followed by appeasement of Russia (with atom bombs, concessions, eye-blinking regarding Iran, China, and similar pretensions that conquest of Europe and Asia by Russia is unthinkable.)

The mere fact that Mr. Byrnes goes to Moscow with atom bomb in hand reminds them of Chamberlain at Munich. That also meant "peace in our time," remember?

Their understanding is reinforced by two facts which I think have been unpublished, certainly have not been mentioned prominently:

(A) Mr. Byrnes dropped his adviser Jimmy Dunn for the Moscow trip (Dunn had been charged by Moscow enthusiasts as being Fascist, Catholic and otherwise unsympathetic with Moscow causes) and Mr. Byrnes is taking in Dunn's place Freeman Mathews, a butterfly diplomat, who has skipped around the world in his assignments, yet never got the reputation of being against Russian interests.

Mr. Byrnes is also taking John Carter Vincent, head of the Far Eastern division, which Pat Hurley said was sabotaging American foreign policy (the Democrats sure stopped Hurley, didn't they, Senator Connally?)

In answer and apology to this line of thought, Mr. Byrnes' people explain a crises of the United Nations organization is now at hand, due to Russian lack of cooperation. If UNO is to be saved, Mr. Byrnes must save it at Moscow, they say.

Unless Molotov shows up at the Jan. 7 meeting of the assembly in London, it will mean Russia has turned thumbs down on the Roosevelt formula for world peace.

Advertised As Routine

The meeting has been advertised as a routine assemblage of the foreign ministers, as promised by Stalin to Roosevelt and Churchill at Yalta. My inside information is that Mr. Byrnes went to his office on a recent Sunday and began reading the Yalta agreements. They say he found the agreements calling for meetings of the foreign ministers every three months. (They also called for independence of Iran.) These meetings had not been held.

The publicity men may claim that the San Francisco conference came in April (against Yalta's January) and Potsdam came in July, and London in September—but these were not meetings of the foreign ministers as prescribed. The only one which was what was prescribed was the London gathering in September, and it broke up in complete failure, due to Russian opposition.

Mr. Byrnes thought, my departmental informants tell me:

How about another foreign ministers meeting? He got Russian consent first (he needed it after the straight Moscow rebuff of his Iranian note requesting early Russian withdrawal of troops from Iran) and in spite of the fact that Mr. Truman had, just the day before, announced he expected no meetings of the Big Three, but thought the UNO could take care of everything.

In the face of the President, Mr. Byrnes asserted the White House had confused the distinction between colossal Big Three's (Truman, Attlee and Stalin) and ordinary Big Three's (Molotov, Bevin and Byrnes.) The latter meeting, he thought highly desirable, and arranged it.

Appeasement Wanted

What the senators think is that the Roosevelt people in this country (Mrs. Roosevelt's promotionists, CIO, the Auto Workers, etc.) raised such a publicity opposition to Byrnes, even causing Communist pickets to demand his ousting in front of his state department for one day, that he became frightened of the domestic political consequences of his non-losing policy and decided to embark upon appeasement—which is what the Roosevelt radicals want.

For the present only, they will keep quiet in hopes that the agreements at Moscow will be fair and valid.

The situation is so serious I will begin an analysis of world conditions Monday, and will pursue it to its ultimate factual truth if it takes four or five columns.

Role of Women Legislators

32 Elected in France Plan To Do "Man's Job."

By DUDLEY ANN HARMON
United Press Correspondent

PARIS — Thirty-two French women elected to parliament for the first time in history immediately served notice they intended to do a man's job and that anybody who thought they would confine themselves to "women's questions" was due for a jolt.

Traditionally home-hugging mademoiselles who in the past four years have undergone torture and deportion find nothing extraordinary in politics.

By winning 32 seats, or nearly six per cent of the parliament, they have already accomplished more than English or American women after some quarter-century of suffrage. This success is partly due to the fact that the election list of every French political party carried at least one woman candidate. But it does not detract from the fact that the new deputies are serious, able people who during the war did men's work.

Support Equal Roles

Madame Marie Helene Lefaucheaux, pretty, fragile deputy belonging to the Catholic leftists Movement Republican Populaire, said immediately on election, "I hope we will not be limited to social and family questions. I believe women should play an equal role in politics with men."

Madeleine Braun, who belongs to one of the Communist satellite groups, has served notice, "women should work as partners of men instead of being placed in a category apart."

The Communist party, with 17 women deputies, has furnished the majority in Parliament, with the Socialists and MRP second. The Communists gave more prominence to women in their pre-election drive than did any other party, urging that as many as possible be elected "to rebuild France."

Majority Are Married

The new women deputies range from workers in factories to the widow of a former cabinet minister. Most of them are married but in the words of one of them, Francine Lefebvre, "This is no problem as before election I had a shop-committee job in addition to my factory. Now I hope to see more of my husband." The latter told a reporter that politics do not interest him, but that he was proud of his wife "even though she never has time to mend my overalls."

Blond, pretty Madam Marie-Claude Vallant-Couturier, widow of the prewar editor of the Communist paper "Humanite," did a man's job in the underground. She was deported to the horror camps of Auschwitz and Ravensbruck after being tortured by the Gestapo. When the day of liberation came, she turned down repatriation to stay behind and care for those prisoners who were too ill to travel.

Another widow, Helen Solomon-Langevin, also learned at first hand the horrors of Auschwitz and Ravensbruck. She returned as one of 39 survivors of a convoy of 200 delivered by the Russians after the women had made a forced march of 250 miles.

Mother of Six

Madame Simone Rollin, mother of six children, received reporters calmly. "Let the older children carry on while I talk to you, they are used to looking after the younger ones," she said. Mme. Rollin, who for years has played a role in welfare work, is particularly interested in "giving families a chance to live and grow normally. There are so many things that can aid a housewife and which she too seldom enjoys —running water, showers, electric kitchens."

In her opinion, women are more conscientious than men, and the new deputies will study thoroughly their problems so as to really understand them.

One of the most unusual of this unusual group is the colored woman, Madame Felix Eboue, who was elected as a socialist deputy for Guadaloupe. Mme. Eboue's late husband, Negro Governor General of Equatorial Africa was the first colonial governor to rally to de Gaulle in 1940. French social problems should be easy for her. For 25 years she lived in the Congo bush with her husband, traveling by horseback from one village to another. In those days there were no schools, hardly any shelter for the natives, and epidemics of sleeping sickness among them. When the Eboues left, there were houses, schools, and hardly any sleeping sickness.

New Lifesaver

NEW YORK—The New York fire department's newest lifesaver looks like a department store delivery truck repainted red.

It is a mobile laboratory, manned by five young firemen, all college chemistry graduates, and equipped to detect toxic and explosive fumes and liquids.

The unit's first official run was to a busy uptown subway tunnel where passengers had whiffed gasoline odors. There the squad spotted a stream trickling down the tracks. A quick analysis proved it a mixture of water, gasoline and crude oil, seeping in from a garage above the subway.

Precautions promptly were taken to prevent what might have been a disastrous underground explosion.

More firemen are killed by fumes than by flames or falling debris, the "lab on wheels" men point out. Preventing such accidents is their job.

BROKEN APPOINTMENT

THAT GUY WITH THE WORN TIRES WAS SUPPOSED TO MEET ME ON THIS ROAD— HE'D O' MADE IT, TOO, IF HE HADN'T SLOWED DOWN—
ENQUIRER REPUBLIC AND GAZETTE SYNDICATE

From News of Other Years

10 YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Dec. 14, 1935.

Politicians of both major parties were showing concern as a third party threat, with Dr. F. E. Townsend, sponsor of "$200 a month for every one over 60 years old" as a leader in the movement, loomed on the political horizon.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann calmly received the news that the week of Jan. 13 had been set for his death in the electric chair for the kidnap murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Candy, tobacco and 35 gallons of gasoline were stolen when burlars entered a filling station operated by John A. Deeds south of Waldo.

Delmar Dulin was elected president of the Marion Horseshoe league at the league's new indoor quarters on North Prospect street. Other officers named were Edward Bowman, vice president, Ward Burroughs, secretary and treasurer, and John Endicott, captain.

O. N. Essex, Marion county WPA engineer, announced a list of proposed WPA projects through which it was hoped work would be provided for the county's 500 idle employables in relief families.

Mrs. Emma Hopkins, 67, lifelong resident of Marion county, died at her home southeast of Green Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gast were hosts to their bridge club at a Christmas party at their home in Pospect. Mrs. W. T. Buchanan and Russell M. Wilhelm won high honors and Mrs. Wilhelm and Henry R. Stauffer were consoled.

20 YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Dec. 14, 1925.

It was announced that George R. Pfann, 23, of Marion, who had gained fame as a football star at Cornell university, was awarded the Rhodes scholarship from Ohio for 1925 by the Rhodes scholarship committee at its meeting in Cleveland. As a football played Pfann had twice won a place on Walter Camp's all-American eleven and Walter Eckersall, noted sports authority, had recently played the Marion boy at quarterback on his all-time all-American team.

City Solicitor Grant E. Mouser Jr. was going through the city's council records to ascertain whether or not there was in existence an ordinance to back a police ruling requiring dance hall proprietors to close their dances on Saturday night at 11:30. Acting under the ruling, police the preceding Saturday night had stopped one dance at the specified time.

The North Central Ohio Scholastic Athletic league, in session at Galion, decided to change its plan of selecting officials for athletic contests. Instead of officials being chosen by the league director principals of the contesting schools were to make the selections thereafter.

Morris Sager, Marion boy who was a student of violin at the Cleveland Conservatory of Music, was a guest soloist in the Lecture-Recital club's annual Christmas program given at Epworth M. E. church.

The Pearl Street A. C. basketball team defeated the Central M. A. five on the Star court, 14 to 8. Joliff, Pearl Street forward, starred with four field goals. Other players on the Pearl Street team were Wosencroft, McDaniel, Johnston and Castner, while in the Central lineup were Lockwood, Roush, Osmun, Krisher and Allen.

Boom in Foreign Travel Seen

By The United Press

NEW YORK—Foreign travel will begin rising to unprecedented proportions when the state department starts issuing passports, possibly as early as next April for Atlantic crossings, according to Ralph T. Reed, president of the American Express Co.

"A generation ago, the automobile freed people from their dooryards and their local communities," Reed wrote in the January issue of The American Magazine. "Today, airplanes and fast steamships are about to liberate us from our continents. The war has stimulated interest in foreign lands. Savings are at an all-time peak."

Bargain-Rate Tours

The president of America's largest travel organization forecast that with the resumption of commercial competition, travel costs will "tumble and bargain rates for special tours of all kinds" will become the vogue.

Steamship lines are looking forward to fares on approximately pre-war levels, while airlines, expecting new planes to become available rapidly, are confident that international rates will be reduced as much as 70 per cent, Reed said.

Army transport planes are being converted to passenger use in such numbers that all tourists who wish to see America by air will have plenty of accommodations, he said, and "great steamship companies—American and foreign—are getting ready to convert or reconvert scores of troop-carrying craft into passenger vessels."

Germany Seen Banned

He recalled that after the first World War 11 months elapsed before the first passports were issued for pleasure travel to Europe. If the same period of waiting is required this time, he expects tourists to start moving across the Pacific in July.

"There is small likelihood that you will be able to make a tour of German battlefields in 1946, or view the bomb damage in Japan," Reed said. "The enemy countries probably will remain under stern military restrictions for a long time. It is doubtful, too, if such disturbed countries as Italy, Poland, and Yugoslavia will be opened to tourists soon, but travel meccas such as England, France, Switzerland, the Scandinavian countries, Egypt, India, and China are almost certain to be sufficiently recovered from the war to place welcome mats in front of their doors. And, just as soon as that happens, Uncle Sam will give us leave to visit them.

"Meanwhile, the government is sure to permit the resumption of travel to many other glamorous parts of the world which have been less directly affected by the war."

Crime in Italy

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Writer

ROME—A crime wave is sweeping Italy. Bands as large as 300 men prey on the war-torn railroads from Sicily to the Swiss border, dramatically robbing trains in Wild West style.

Murders, armed robberies, kidnapping, extortion, burglary—all are on the uptake, filling back pages of Italy's one-sheet newspapers with lurid details.

Political violence also is rising, reminding observers of the bloody clashes preceding Mussolini's march on Rome 23 years ago.

Avowed monarchists have grown particularly violent in recent weeks, raiding Communist and Socialist headquarters and burning their insignia and furniture.

Italy's tremendous black market is behind many of the crimes. Entire freight trains have been looted by bandits who shot it out with the carabinieri escort, and the booty channeled into the black market.

Authorities throw up their hands at the crime menace. They point to the ill-equipped Italian police, woefully lacking in transport, and to the mass of unemployed and disillusioned left in the wake of the disastrous war.

Even now that the lights are burning again in Rome few people walk the streets after midnight when shots can be heard in many parts of the city.

The Romans even have begun to joke about it. A recent cartoon showed a well-dressed burgher preparing to leave his home at night, equipped with a machinegun, a dagger and hand grenades. "Where are you going, hunting?" asks his wife. "No. To midnight Mass."

Remain Seated

By Truman Twill

As far as we know, nothing has been said about snow shovels. Except for minor changes in design and the persistent cheap-jack use of materials which is the characteristic of the more abundant life we keep getting whether we want it or not, snow shovels are the same as they were a century ago.

They are too heavy for a woman to handle, the city where other women can see her to make caustic comments about her lazy ways, though farm women get along with them right. This leads to the notion that men should shovel snow in cities. But many men in cities are sedentary workers, for sedentary men snow shovels are poison—because of the cold air that goes with them.

While nothing is safer than a snow shovel in the hands of a sedentary worker while he is inside, to let him have a snow shovel while he is outside in the snow may lead to a gale being blown. The lint-head may forget his business.

Besides, he knows his wife is keeping an eye on him and thinking that it's darned near time that when she does everything else around the place, including the coal-shoveling, it's his turn on enough floating power to come home through the snow. So he takes a couple of deep breaths of fresh air and tears loose at whatever that matters in his back.

This leaves him in a crippled condition and cannot straighten up to see whether he is coming looking so he can summon her to his aid. However, since he already is bent double close to his work, he keps shoveling and breathing more fresh air until help arrives. Finally, he gets to the end of the walk.

The ministry of supply answered by sending each doctor one bottle of vinegar, one-half package of corn-coffee and a small packet of washing powder.

COURT SLAPS LIMIT ON FISHER PICKETS

CLEVELAND, Dec 14—Picketing by members of a Cleveland local of the CIO's United Auto Workers union at the Fisher Body plant of General Motors Corp. today was limited by court order to 35 persons.

Common Pleas Judge Frank S. Day announced the decision after a closed session with management and union attorneys, on a petition filed by General Motors yesterday which asked the court to limit the number of pickets at plant gates and to prevent "all out peaceful picketing."

Judge Day said he had not ordered the removal of all pickets because no evidence was presented to support a company charge that union members had molested or threatened persons attempting to enter the strike-bound plant last Tuesday.

He said union attorneys had agreed to permit 200 office workers to enter the plant without interference.

P.-T.A. Holds Annual Christmas Party

An annual Christmas tea was given by the George Washington P.-T. A. in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Yuletide decorations formed the setting for the Christmas story of nativity, given by Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church.

Seasonal music was furnished by the fifth grade pupils and Christmas carols were sung by the group with Norma Beal at the piano. Margaret Zachman played a piano solo and later she and Sally Ann Knickle presented a duet.

Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St Paul's Lutheran church, read sketches from a diary which he kept while on a trip to the Holy Land several years ago, and showed picture cards which he collected at the time.

Reports on a magazine drive were given by Mrs. M. E. Wykoff, chairman. A health program in charge of Mrs. Perry Hall was planned for Jan. 8 at which time Dr. T. H. Sutherland will be guest speaker.

Serving at a long table, decorated in keeping with the season, were Mrs. C. E Hershey and Miss Rita Van Meter.

Auxiliary Elects Officers at Dinner

Officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Letter Carriers were elected at the annual Chrisimas dinner at Detrick's Inn last night. Covers were placed for 13 members at tables decorated with lighted candles and greenery in keeping with the season.

Those chosen to serve are Mrs. Edward Hachten, president; Mrs. Albert Bechtle, vice president; Mrs. John Merchant, secretary; Mrs. Howard Weber, treasurer; Mrs. V. E. Goff, chaplain; Mrs. Jean Duffy, mistress-of-arms

Mrs Hachten and Mrs. John Corbin won honors in contests and crazy bridge The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Goff on Hane avenue, Jan. 10.

The presents were collected from several boxes which had been placed in the various Marion stores. Packing was done at the Legion headquarters on West Center street Although the total number fell short of the original goal, Mr Rogers said they were able to ship two cartons to Ohio hospitals.

"Good Neighbor" Policy Works Well in Heavy Snow

The neighborhood cyclone out Duluth, Girard and Cherry street way gets to A B Crawford of 666 Girard avenue, who really puts the "good neighbor" policy into action This morning the residents of these streets fairly beamed when they looked out their windows and beheld Neighbor Crawford, atop his snowplow, cleaning the sidewalks in the vicinity

Cleaning the sidewalks for his neighbors is really not a new job to Mr. Crawford who rigged up the snowplow the winter of 1943 and 44, but last year it was "laid up" as one of the parts was broken and could not be replaced because of the war This morning, the old neighbors were overjoyed and the new ones were pleasantly surprised when they saw the snowplow in action.

"It's really fun, makes you feel like a kid again," Neighbor Crawford, a retired Erie railroad conductor, said today The snowplow, shaped like the cowcatcher on an engine, is attached to a garden tractor and works like a charm.

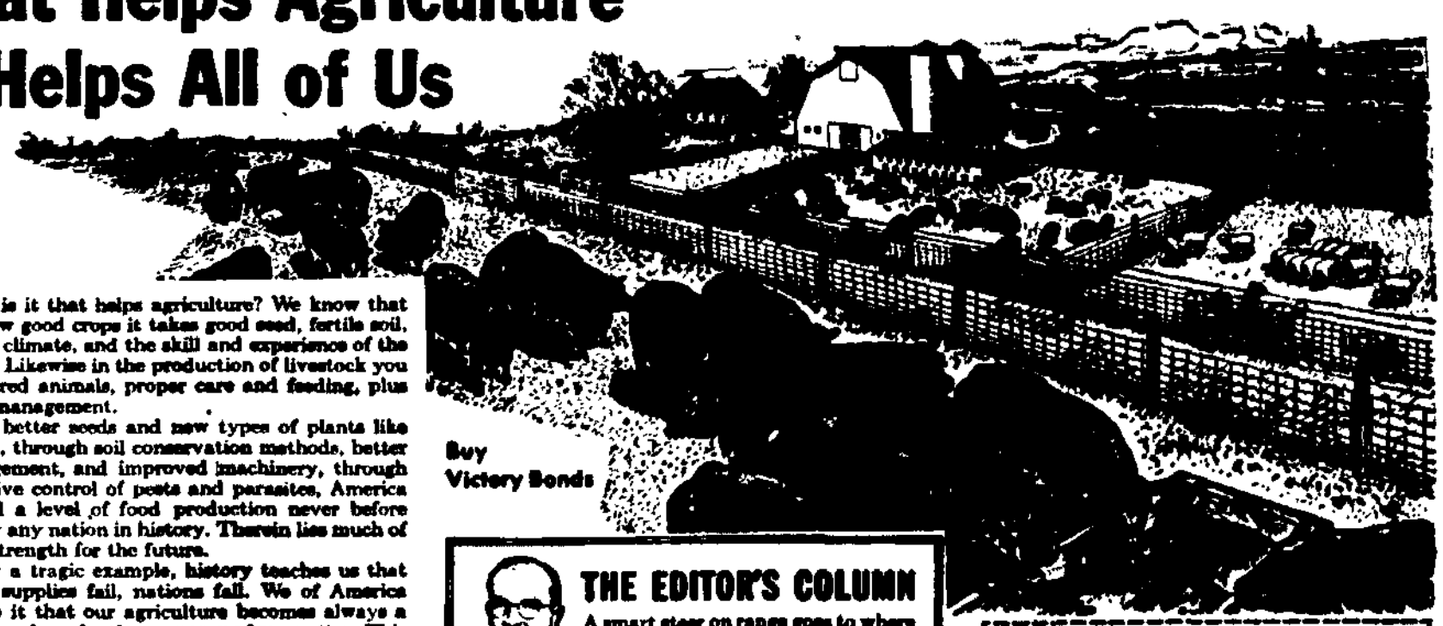
What Helps Agriculture Helps All of Us



Buy Victory Bonds

WHAT is it that helps agriculture? We know that to grow good crops it takes good seed, fertile soil, a favorable climate, and the skill and experience of the individual. Likewise in the production of livestock you need well-bred animals, proper care and feeding, plus intelligent management.

Through better seeds and new types of plants like hybrid corn, through soil conservation methods, better land management, and improved machinery, through more effective control of pests and parasites, America has reached a level of food production never before achieved by any nation in history. Therein lies much of America's strength for the future.

By many a tragic example, history teaches us that when food supplies fail, nations fall. We of America must see to it that our agriculture becomes always a stronger, surer base for the economy of our nation. This is a task not only for you as producers but also for us who, by providing nationwide facilities and services, bridge the gap which separates farmers and ranchers from the distant consumers who must have their products.

And because our business is so closely linked with the land, we at Swift & Company are vitally interested in all developments that help agriculture. And so in these Swift pages we publish helpful information, knowing that a prosperous agriculture is essential to the livestock and meat industry—and to the prosperity of the nation as a whole.

OUR LIVESTOCK JUDGING METHODS

By E. G. JOHNSON

Head, Department of Animal Husbandry, Oregon State College

Domestic animals are machines for converting plant material into meat, fibers, and other human needs. Competition forces the modern farmer to evaluate efficiency in terms of tons or bushels per acre, dairy production in pounds of butterfat per cow per year, and poultry results in number of eggs per year. Thus, since the basic measure is feed and not animals, shouldn't livestock producers evaluate breeding stock on the basis of meat or of wool and shrinkage produced per 100 pounds of feed consumed?

The show ring standards for judging animals by external appearance have given us advancement up to a certain point, but breeding for the show ring does not always lead to efficient feed utilization.

A step in the right direction is the increasing use of proved sires. Today, through use of artificial insemination, the purebred breeder is greatly assisted in the establishment and increase of efficient breed lines.

Tomorrow's "yardstick" will not only be bigger yields per cow but also more pounds of meat and fiber per ton of feed.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW? How many of the [illegible] essential to health are found in meat?

What governs the price of livestock?

In what dessert is meat an important ingredient?

Swift & Company wishes all the readers of this page

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

A smart steer on range goes to where the forage is best. A smart livestock producer sells where the market is best. There are many sources of information to help him decide where that best market may be. Radio networks and nearby stations report daily on receipts and prices at central and local markets. Commission houses and their field men are ready to give personal advice on the best time and place to sell. Newspapers publish detailed descriptions of market conditions. Various timely reports are available from the U. S. D. A. and other impartial sources on trends and developments in the livestock-and-meat industry.

In making their bids, livestock buyers also use current market information. Acceptance of any price offered is entirely up to the producer or his sales agent. Meat packing plants and their buyers are located at so many widespread points that if a producer is not satisfied with prices offered by any one buyer, he has a choice of several others to which he may sell his animals.

Moreover, with 2,500 meat packing plants and 26,000 other concerns and individuals who slaughter livestock commercially, there is bound to be keen competitive bidding for your livestock. Barring meat rationing and price ceilings, livestock prices are governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by-products.

STATE OPENS X-RAY BATTLE AGAINST T-B

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14 — A battle to control tuberculosis in Ohio's mental hospitals, feeble minded schools, and penal institutions starts Monday with mass X-rays of all patients and employes at the Columbus state school for mental deficient.

A mobile unit and two technicians loaned to the state department of health by the U. S. public health service will make chest X-rays to learn the extent of the tuberculosis problem in the school, and then visit 14 other state institutions in turn. Forty-thousand patients, inmates, and employes eventually will be checked in one of the largest control programs ever attempted in Ohio.

The program, a joint effort of the state welfare and health departments, will be supervised by Dr. Mark W. Garry, chief of the latter's tuberculosis division. He estimated the survey would be finished in nine or 10 months

By that time, Welfare Director Frazier Reams said, the hospital for tubercular mentally ill at Mt Vernon, to care for 550 patients, should be nearly finished so that some of the cases discovered can be treated there.

He said spot checks indicated that about 1,000 state wards in all institutions suffered from tuberculosis, 700 of them in the mental hospitals and schools.

Miracle Operation Gives "Blue Baby" New Hope of Life

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 14—Three-year-old Stephanie Starr Strode is headed home to Topeka, Kas., today apparently recovered from a "Blalock operation," which has brought new hope of life to more than threescore "blue babies" who have come to Dr. Alfred Blalock at the Johns Hopkins hospital.

The operation, one of medicine's miracle operations, was performed Nov. 12 and is designed to augment a deficient supply of oxygenated blood in a "blue baby."

It will be the first time the Strode family has been together for Christmas. Lt. Col. E. M. Strode, a public relations officer now on terminal leave, was in Iceland when Starr was born.

The family had virtually given up hope for the baby's recovery until her mother read about the Blalock operation in a medical journal article reprinted in a Chicago newspaper.

OHIO PUTS LID BACK ON WORK FOR WOMEN

Wartime Relaxation of Female and Minor Laws Ends.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 14—The war is officially over tomorrow for the thousands of Ohio women and young people who took mansized jobs when the men filling them went to fight.

The emergency Ross and Corey acts relaxing female and minor labor laws to help meet the manpower shortages expire tomorrow after one extension. They originally were to have expired Sept. 15 but Gov Lausche extended them by proclamation when business and industrial interests protested they could not do without the extra help.

J. Harry Moore, state industrial relations director, said that only perhaps ten per cent of the thousands of women and minors who took these jobs—driving taxicabs, working on heavy railroad tasks, handling baggage at railroad and bus terminals, and the like—still were working at them.

In addition to prohibiting women and minors from taking a long list of heavy jobs, the basic law forbids women from working more than 45 hours a week or eight hours a day in manufacturing and 48 hours in other fields.

Children under 18 years must have age and schooling certificates and no boy under 18 or girl under 21 may work more than six days or 48 hours a week, more than eight hours a day, or before 6 a. m. or after 10 p. m.

SECTION VI. The City Auditor is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this Ordinance to the County Auditor.

SECTION VII. That this Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and welfare of the citizens of Marion, Ohio, and as such shall take effect from and after the date of its passage.

PROBE SPREADS IN FOUR DEATHS

Investigation Pushed Into Ex-Convict's Link with Cremation of Women.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 15—District Attorney Edmund Brown today spearheaded a nationwide investigation of the strikingly similar deaths and cremations of four elderly women whose names have been linked with that of Alfred Leonard Cline, ex-convict under arrest here.

Brown asked police in Macon, Ga., Portland, Los Angeles, Jacksonville, Fla., and Dallas to send officers here to confer on the case.

Leave Wealth

Three of the four women left property exceeding $300,000 in value. One—Mrs. Eva Delora Krebs of Chicago—left her entire estate to Cline, Attorney Frank Ward said at Columbus, O. Cash and securities totaling more than $200,000 were recovered from her safety deposit box there.

Cline has stated Mrs. Krebs died as a wife in Portland in November, 1944, and was cremated.

Cline is held here on a charge of suspected forgery of papers from Mrs. Krebs estate.

Brown asserted there was a pattern in the deaths of all four women. All died shortly after being registered in hotels. The arrangements for their cremations were made by a man who identified himself as Cline or Klein, either as their husband or their business agent.

Outlines Case

Brown outlined the case as follows:

Nov. 8, 1943 a woman died in Jacksonville, Fla., and was cremated as "Elizabeth Hannah Klein." Brown is convinced she was Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt Lewis of Oakland, a widow who has disappeared.

A woman died in Macon, and was cremated Feb. 21, 1944, as Mrs. Alma Willa Carter" of San Francisco, Brown believes she was Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter of Bloomington, Ind.

Oct. 17, 1944, a woman died in a Dallas hotel and was cremated as Mrs. Alice W. Carpenter. Brown believes she was Mrs. Krebs.

Nov. 29, 1944, a woman died in a Portland hotel and was cremated as Mrs. Krebs. Brown is convinced she was Mrs. Isabel Van Natta, a missing widow from San Francisco.

De Valera Is Man To Reckon With, Mackenzie Finds

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Wirld Traveler

DUBLIN, Oct. 4—One of the most extraordinary personages of our generation without the shadow of doubt is Eamon De Valera, prime minister of Eire, a man whose name is revered at home and abroad either with the appearance or disfavor, but never with indifference.

Here we have a onetime college professor who so far departed from his studious role as to become one of the leaders of the ill-starred bloody Easter week rebellion of 1916 against the British rule. When this revolt failed he was condemned to death, had his sentence commuted and finally, through a long line of imprisonment and other vicissitudes, became prime minister of Eire.

E. De Valera

And the most remarkable feature of this story of adventure is that he finally won his position not by armed force as he once tried but through political leadership of his people, in which he matched his keen wits against those of England's best. Miss MacKenzie and I have had a long conversation with the prime minister, whom I have known for many years. I wish I could repeat it here, for he discussed high affairs and international relations with great candor (one of his characteristics). But it was all "off the record."

De Valera's Stand

I frequently have inquiries from readers of this column as to just what the status of southern Ireland is and this would seem to be a good time to repeat the definition given by De Valera himself in substance a short time ago. This position, as I conceive it, is this: We are an independent republic associated as a matter of our external policy with the states of the British commonwealth."

He added that the king "acts for us under advice in certain specific matters in the field of our external relations."

The manner in which this position was achieved is one of the high-water marks of De Valera's strategy. As described to me by one of his henchmen back in 1932 when De Valera became head of government and there at last was a governor general to represent the king, the governor became angered over an incident and refused to accept De Valera's advise. De Valera then asked the king to recall his governor-general, which in accordance with custom was done.

"Buries" His Man

De Valera then recommended to the king the appointment of Daniel Buckley, a staunch republican but a mild and retiring man. The appointment being made, De Valera deliberately buried Buckley in a little residence and told him to efface himself from public life.

The result was that the governor-generalship in effect disappeared. The master stroke, however, came in 1936 when King Edward VIII abdicated. For a period of two days there was no king and in that time De Valera rushed through his legislature an external relations act abolishing the kingship so far as it concerned southern Ireland. The move was so adroit that Britain didn't try to restore the old royal status.

Head Off for Days, Ohio Rooster Still Leading Happy Life

By The Associated Press

LEBANON, O. Dec. 14—Gregory, a White Rock rooster, has been strutting around crowing a bit and pecking at diet of eggnog even though he lost his head on the chopping block at 10:30 a.m. last Sunday.

Hal Hathaway owner, said the bird "just got up and walked around" after a hatchet and axe work. Dr. Harry Cornet, veterinarian reported examination had disclosed that even though the head was severed the base of the brain, or motor center, still was intact.

The bird is fed with a eye-dropper.
